IAEA Skill Centre - Certificate Distribution Ceremony

Since last couple of years IAEA has adopted two slum areas viz. Anna Nagar and Sanjay Colony, located in vicinity of its Headquarters at Indraprastha Estate, ITO, New Delhi. Multiple interventions such as organizing awareness campaigns, health and hygiene drive, read and write competitions for school going students and health check-up and eye camps for women and elderly are being made on regular basis to enhance the quality of life of the residents of this locality. Out of all these interventions IAEA Skill Centre has emerged as an effective medium for imparting much sought for Cutting & Tailoring skills to the women and girls in the area. Learners of its 1st batch most of whom were quite hesitant to come to the centre at the beginning have now acquired basic training and are able to design and stitch regular wears for both men and women independently.

Inauguration of IAEA Computer Training Centre

Expanding the reach of outreach activities, it was planned by the Association to start a centre dedicated for providing Computer Literacy to the girls and women coming from urban slums and other deprived sections of the society. This was in tune with the assurance given by the Office Bearers of IAEA to a large number of community people who came to meet them during their visit to Anna Nagar and Sanjay Amar Colony on March 17, 2026. A team of staff members of IAEA thereafter consulted with a number of persons who have sufficient contact and influence among the residents of both the slum areas for identifying both the learners and a competent trainer from the area. It may be noted that the trainer if belongs to the same fraternity she can act as an influential bridge between the Association and the residents of the area.

After a number of attempts nearly 15 students enrolled themselves for the course submitting a token amount of Rs.100/- as course fee. Promises made to deprived people must be kept so that their interest and participation in development process is ensured. Believing in this the General Secretary immediately ordered to arrange at least five computers and start the centre. On April 11, 2026 all the arrangements were made and the trainer and learners were invited for a fresher's meeting with the staff members who will be helping them throughout their course. Trial classes were conducted prior to inauguration to sort-out problems if any.

On May 30, 2026 the well-equipped computer centre was inaugurated by Prof. L. Raja, President, IAEA who was also accompanied by Shri Suresh Khandelwal, General Secretary; Prof. Rajesh, Director In-charge, Prof. N. K. Ambasht, Smt. Addressing the learners Prof. Raja said that the Association is committed to work for the socio-educational and economic development of the learners and the digital literacy and computer skills acquired will certainly open the path of joining gainful employment. The only thing required from the learners is the regularity and consistence in attaining the classes and completing the task assigned in time. Shri Suresh Khandelwal requested the learners to feel free in communicating problems faced by them so that it can be fixed at the earliest. He said that a number of learners of Cutting & Tailoring course offered by IAEA Skill Centre have already started working and the learners here too will get good opportunities for their economic self-reliance. Prof. Rajesh, requested all the learners to motivate others in the locality to come forward and enrol themselves for the computer classes.

The inaugural of the computer centre was concluded with thanks given by Ms. M. Kamachi, the computer trainer. She thanked the Association and its office bearers for starting the courses which is in demand in the locality as most of the learners here come from families who are unable to afford the cost of such classes conducted by privately owned organizations.
